WALKER BURNS WIND

Nationals' Pitcher Has Plenty of Speed in Work-out.

LIGHTNING FAST IN FIELDING

Despite Warning of Boss McAleer, Occasionally Works in Curve and Has Batters Worried-Wild Conroy Shows Old-time Form-Regulars and Colts to Hang Up Purse.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Norfolk, Va., March 15.—The Nationals kept right at it to-day and got in another good day's work, but the weather was a bit too cold, and to guard against injuries which a low temperature makes probable, McAleer did not permit the men to go at the pace which they set yesterday. The squad was willing enough, and without the restraining hand of the boss would have exerted themselves to a greater extent.

The feature of the day was the work-out of Dixie Walker in the box. He used tremendous speed, and while most of his balls were straight ones, he occasionally worked in a curve, despite the warning of McAleer. So swift was he that the batters experienced difficulty in hitting him, and whenever they did land on the ball there was not much doing.

Fast in Fielding.

Fast ones in March are often left at the post when they get off in April, but if Dixie does not get off to a good start when the barrier goes up, a likely looking youngster will have dropped behind. The big boy has good control, besides speed, and he is lightning fast in the fielding of his position. He gathers in balls that come his way in a hurry, and he will take a fast man to beat him to first on a play of that kind. He went after numerous bunts this afternoon.

Reisling is another pitcher showing form, and if his workout performances count for anything he should make McAleer a valuable man. McAleer made a change in the batting practice to-day. Instead of letting the men hit one fair one at a time at the bat, they hit one and bunted one. Some good ones were laid down.

If a man has ever worked harder for a manager than the Nationals are working for McAleer, it is unknown to any one who has seen the boys. McAleer not only has the confidence of the men, but his manner of dealing with them is calculated to make them do the utmost for him. He encourages and humors them, rather than scold. Not once has he given away to temper since the practice commenced.

Conroy Shows Form.
The regular infielders of the squad were this afternoon kept at work longer than the others. McAleer himself batted the ball out. Conroy played at third. Wid is showing his old form, and some of the wise ones are saying that Elberfeld will have to set a fast pace to dislodge him from the corner.

The regulars and colts are discussing the practice games which they are expecting to play, and if there is anything in a lot of talking that is being done, there will be a purse up when they come together.

HALIE MURATH VS. KING.

"Dangerous Turk" Has Chance to Meet Joe Turner.

Hallie Murath, the "Dangerous Turk," will wrestle Frye King at the Gayety Theater after the regular performance to-night.

The Turk agrees to throw King twice in twenty minutes for a good-sized side bet. If Murath wins the bout, Joe Turner has agreed to take him on for the championship of the District.

WOODLAND A. C. IN LINE.

Team to Play Antlers in the Season's First Game.

The Woodland A. C. will play the Antler A. C. on McDevitt's field next Sunday. This will be the first game of the season for the former club, and it is certain they will make the Antlers hustle.

Price and Loeffler will probably form the battery for the Woodlands, with Tanager on first, Handy on second, Ehrmantraut in the shortfield, Kilgore on third, and Naughton, Woodward, and Wood in the outfield.

This team is anxious to arrange a schedule with clubs in or around the city, especially bank and school nines. Address C. Handy, 1753 T street northwest.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC NOTES

Central High School seems to be the hottest hit of any of the baseball teams in the matter of ineligible players. The advisory marks which went in last Friday have resulted in several of the best men being debarred from participation in any of the high school contests until they have attained passing marks, which may not be until the next advisory records are handed in. Capt. Macdonald and "Chick" Thomas, the former the man to whom Central confidently looked to cover the first base, and the latter the best shortstop the school affords, have been flunked. Dick Thompson, who was regarded as the mainstay of the pitching staff, if he continued his present form, and Menefee, the player who was expected to do most of the backstopping for the team, have also joined the ranks, as has Hartsborn, who was booked for an infield position. Unless they can better their marks before the next advisory, these men will occasion a loss to the team which will be most keenly felt in the race for the pennant.

Business High also suffered a heavy loss to the team when the advisory marks went in. Pitcher Smith, being the biggest loss, while Bridget's flunk will occasion a gap that will be hard to fill at shortstop. Taylor, the southpaw twirler, who was showing up so well in preliminary practice, will also be unable to play for six weeks at least, at the end of which time he may pass his second advisory and be eligible for a place, as may the other two. Smith, who hails from the Olympia A. C., will be a big loss in the early games of the season, where he was slated to do a good share of the pitching.

Eastern is facing the game with a stanch heart, despite the fact that the mainstay of the pitching staff, Whitney, the man on whom the Capitol Hill squad was counting to win the championship by his work in the box, has also joined the ranks with a flunk. Unless he can reverse the condition in the next six weeks, it means that Ligon, a new man, will have to do the work this spring. Lord, who came from Tech last year, had a flunk chalked against him last Friday, which will debar him from the games. Harrison, who would probably have played in the outfield, is another one of those who became ineligible under last week's mark.

Up at the Western High, Donovan and Howard, both of whom had flunks against them last semester, are reported to be eligible now, and will play in the games this spring, unless the next advisory mark, which goes in after six weeks, reverts the present standing.

It looks as though the Tech team is going to get off easiest of any. While the marks have not been registered and officially examined by the principal, the boys up at the school say that practically none of the men will be affected by this advisory. This bodes exceptionally well for the Maroon and Gray athletes, as the only other school unaffected by the advisory marks is Western. Things look better than ever for a pennant-winning team at the Blacksmiths' school this season.

The Western High track team has been disbanded for two or three weeks at least. The school officials are not considering the advisability of entering any men in the spring meet, and unless they decide to do so track athletics at the Red and White institution will be dead until next winter, when the indoor season starts.

Curly Byrd will retain charge of the Western baseball team until April 1, when he is to leave them. It is not known who will coach the team when he has gone.

The Western team stacks up against the Georgetown Preps for their first game of the season, to-morrow, on Georgetown Field.

Business High School will probably arrange a game with Gallaudet College for to-morrow afternoon if the weather man permits any playing on that day.

Mr. White, who played end on the George Washington football team last fall, will probably accompany the Business High School squad on their out-of-town trips this spring. Mr. White is a member of the faculty, having been appointed to the position occupied by the late Mr. Freeman.

Hoffman, who is trying for the outfield on the Central team, is becoming up bigger every day as the probable man for one of the outer garden positions. They say that he is a cool man at the bat and lines out some terrific drives when he sees a good one coming over.

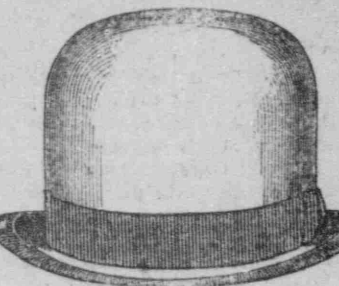

Cullum is the man who will play short on the Central team if Chick Thomas should fall to make up his flunk. Cullum is a fast sprinter, having run on the track team for a couple of seasons, and is an able man when it comes to covering ground.

Business High School plays its first game Friday. The Stenographers will travel down to Alexandria to meet the team from the Episcopal High School. In all probability Burly and Gobel will open the game, and local high school fans will have a chance to see the well-known pair from the Olympia Athletic Club in action. Burly is touted as a first rate slab artist.

MORE NEWS OF JEFFRIES.

Heavy-weight Pugilist May Tour World—To Go to Los Angeles.

San Francisco, March 15.—Sam Berger will leave for Chicago Sunday to arrange time for Jeffries' arrival over the world trip. Berger and H. H. Fraze, of Chicago, have signed Jeffries for the trip, provisional, of course, upon his beating Jack Johnson.

In about ten days Jeffries will return from his hunting trip and spend the time until the end of the month in Los Angeles.

Another means of gathering in money for Jeffries has been discovered. Moving picture people have made a proposition for pictures showing Jeffries in his training camp. These pictures are to be exhibited all over the United States prior to the fight. Jeffries will pick up some profit on them and, incidentally, it will be a big boost for the fight itself.

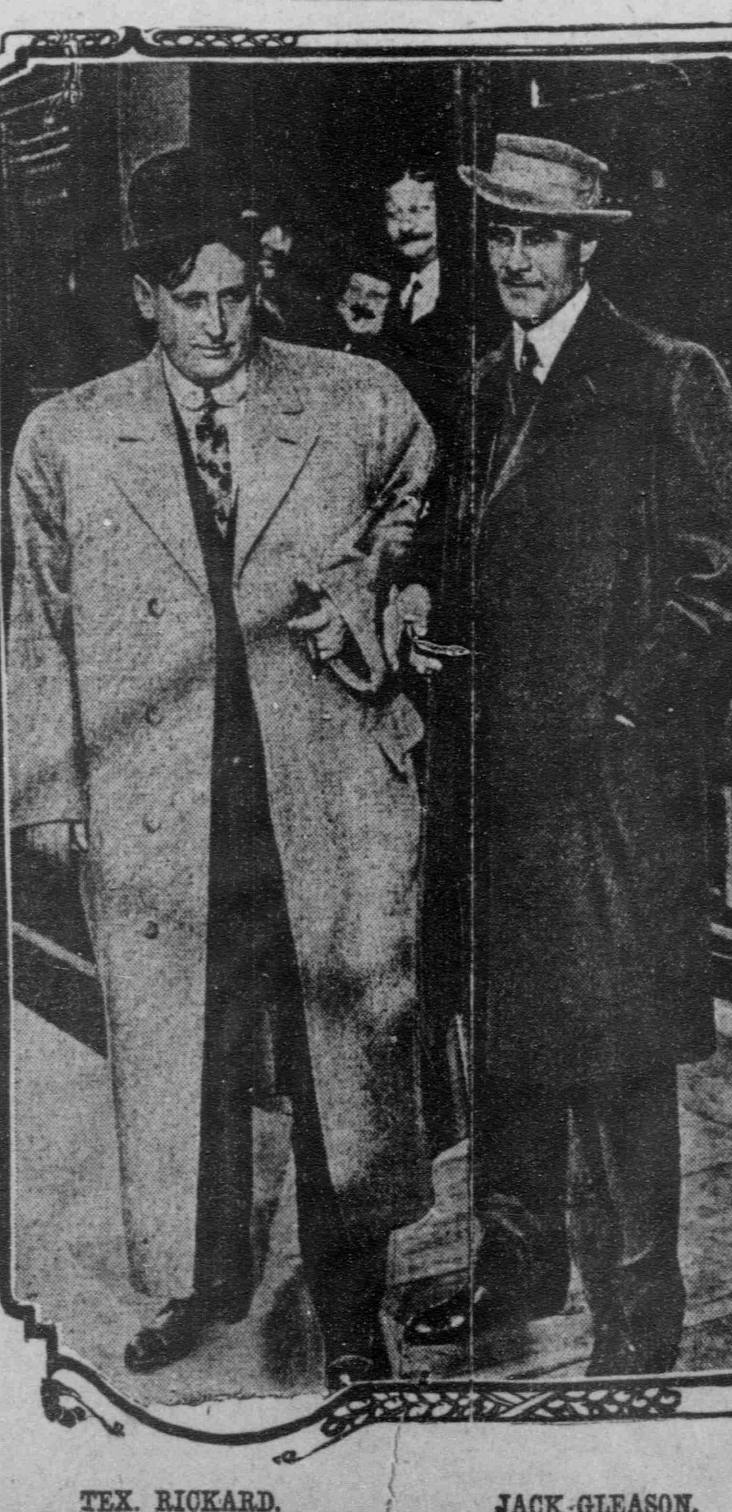

In two weeks Jack Gleason will go to Chicago and New York to arrange for the proposed excursion trips to San Francisco at the time of the fight.

BIG BOUT ARRANGED

Ketchell and Langford to Meet in Philadelphia

AT NATIONAL A. C. IN APRIL

Harry Edwards Makes Trip to Hot Springs and Lands Fight—Promoter Coffroth Matches Jem Driscoll and Abe Attell for Feather-weight Championship Honors.

New York, March 15.—One of the biggest boxing bouts of the season will be held in Philadelphia on April 27, when Stanley Ketchell will meet Sam Langford, the Boston negro, at the National A. C. Harry Edwards, one of the owners of the club, wires from Hot Springs, Ark., that he has obtained Ketchell's signature to the articles of agreement.

This promises to be one of the most important bouts of the year. After the Kaufman-O'Brien bout efforts were made to have Kaufman meet Ketchell at the Philadelphia club. There was a hitch in the negotiations, and rather than have the entire spring pass without something big in the little game, Harry Edwards decided to make a flying trip to Hot Springs to have a talk with Ketchell.

Stanley came out with the statement on Sunday that he did not care to meet Jeffries, Johnson, or Papke, but he failed to include Langford in the list. Edwards suggested the big Boston fighter, and Ketchell consented.

The promoter immediately got in communication by wire with Langford, who is training for his bout with Barry, on the Coast the latter part of the week, and it was not long before the big mill was arranged.

Promoter Coffroth has matched Jem Driscoll, of England, and Abe Attell to fight twenty-five rounds at Colma on the afternoon of July 7. The feather-weight championship of the world will be at stake, and the men will scale 125 pounds at the ringside. Attell will meet Johnny Marto in a ten-round battle at the National Sporting Club, New York, on Friday night, and will also mix it up with Owen Moran, of England, in a similar contest at the Fremont Athletic Club in the near future.

Stable room at Aqueduct will soon be at a premium. Horsemen at all of the winter tracks have telegraphed for stalls, while owners who have had their horses here all winter have already secured accommodations.

Pat Moore, the seventeen-year-old pugilist, has been compelled to retire from the ring temporarily because of a cauliflower ear, which has necessitated an operation. He will be fit again in a few weeks, and will then go after Jimmy Walsh.

"I have heard from Pitcher Groom indirectly," said McAleer to-night, "and he may report shortly."

The boss is expecting Elberfeld at any time.

GOODMAN-HURLEY MILL DRAW.

Light-weight Boxers Go Ten Rounds Without Decision in New York.

New York, March 15.—After ten rounds of the hardest kind of fighting, Jack Goodman and Battling Hurley, light-weights, broke even at the Fairmont Athletic Club to-night. Hurley was stronger and more aggressive, but Goodman showed a great amount of cleverness and in the last few rounds he tried valiantly to offset Hurley's early advantage. It was a grueling fight all the way.

Billy Donovan and Kid Gleason are in New York trying to secure engagements at the boxing clubs.

KEELER NOT SIGNED.

Hitch in Negotiations with Manager McGraw, of Giants.

New York, March 15.—There seems to be a hitch in the negotiations between Willis Keeler and Manager McGraw, of the Giants.

Keeler said to-day he had received no specific offer from McGraw, although he had repeatedly wired for the latter's terms. Keeler has liberal propositions from Dahlen, of Brooklyn, and Griffith, of Cincinnati, which, he says, he will seriously consider if he does not hear something definite from McGraw by Wednesday.

TAIT WINS MATCH RACE.

Toronto Athlete Captures Principal Event in New York A. C. Games.

New York, March 15.—The New York Athletic Club's annual games took place at Madison Square Garden to-night. The chief event was the mile and a half international match race between J. L. Tait, of the Toronto Young Men's Christian Association, and George V. Bonham, of the Irish American Athletic Club. It was an even affair until about 300 yards from the end, when Tait drew away from Bonham and won by thirty yards. The time was 6 minutes 52 seconds, beating the old indoor record of Bonham by 5 seconds.

WILL HAVE SPRING MBET

Annual Interhigh School Outdoor Games to Be Held This Year.

Faculty Advisors Reached Decision Yesterday—Advisory Mark Ruling Proves Satisfactory.

The Washington high schools will have an outdoor meet this spring. For some time past this winter it has looked as though the regular games which had become a feature of track athletics at all the schools would be abandoned this spring because it was found, time after time, that the meet was not a paying proposition.

The faculty athletic advisors of the several high schools met yesterday afternoon at Central, and after some discussion it was decided to continue the affair for this year. The money will be assured, it being one of the terms of the agreement that each high school will contribute a certain amount to the support of the games. Despite the fact that outside of the student body of the schools very little interest is taken in the affair by the public, still, the keen and active competition among the contestants representing the respective schools causes such interest among those interested that it was decided to run off the meet as usual.

Further discussion of the new rule regarding advisory marks determining the eligibility of players, was indulged in, and, while two or three of the schools have been hit pretty hard in the baseball squads by the new system, the advisors are, on the whole, pleased with the practicality and success of the ruling.

Definite announcement was made that Union League Park had been obtained for the playing of the high school championship series.

It has been agreed by the members of the advisory committee that the eligibility rules that govern the high school contests shall be adhered to in the practice games, both those in the city and outside. This will give an excellent opportunity for the school-boys "fans" to get a line on the teams that will actually represent their respective schools in the championship series, an opportunity that has never been given before, when players who would probably be ineligible for the inter-high school contests would play in the preliminary games.

It was also announced that in case it became necessary for any of the inter-high school games to be postponed, the schedule would simply be shoved along, instead of holding the postponed game over until they got a chance to slip it in between the following games.

BOYS WILL LEARN TO SWIM

Y. M. C. A. to Give Free Course of Lessons in the Art.

Washington Lads Will Have Services of Competent Instructors at Indoor Pool.

At last the boys of this city are to be given an opportunity to make themselves proficient in the art of swimming. The committee of management of the Central Branch of the Y. M. C. A. last night decided to provide a free course of lessons in swimming to boys of Washington between the ages of twelve and seventeen years, and under the able teachings of competent instructors, the lads who daily swarm to the bathing beach during the summer months will be enabled to become proficient in all the fine points of the popular sport. The Y. M. C. A. people behind the movement will reap a harvest of gratitude from the fathers and mothers of these boys, who have always been accorded the permission to "go out for a swim" with the lurking fear that they might never come back, and will be the recipients of the approval of all the adult population of the city.

This is the first time that this movement has been started by the Y. M. C. A. in this city, and the beauty of the plan lies in the fact that both members and non-members will be allowed the instruction.

The course will begin the week of March 28, and under the instruction of Chase Taylor and Harry Long, of the Y. M. C. A., the youthful aspirants for aquatic knowledge will be seen daily splashing in the big pool in the boys' department. Members of the "Life Savers' Club," of the association, will also assist in the work.

The undertaking is a big one, and the men in charge of the boys' department are working in every way they know to make the attempt a success. The association has the advantage of having one of the largest pools in the city in which to work. The idea is being developed more and more every day, and complete details of the plan are not ready just yet.

WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT.

Amateur Baseball Commission May Amend Constitution.

The amateur baseball commission of the District is to hold a meeting Friday evening, and it is understood that some amendments to the constitution of the commission are to be offered.

The most important subject to be discussed will be the matter of allowing players to play in more than one league. It is said that several of the leagues have hesitated to adopt the constitution of the commission because of the provision which allows that condition to exist.

Some definite action will be taken to determine the attitude which the commission will take in regard to the leagues that do not adopt the constitution and come in under the protection of the commission.

AMATEUR LEAGUES MEET

Sunday School Officials Adopt Constitution and By-laws.

Several Important Changes Noted—Room for Two Teams in League. Meet Again Tuesday.

At a meeting of the Sunday School League officials last night at the Ninth Street Christian Church the constitution for the present year was adopted, with a few important changes from the one followed last season by the league.

One that will work a big change in the workings of the teams, and which was adopted to conform to the amateur baseball commission's plans, was the clause in the by-laws which says that no players shall be signed by any team in the league after July 15.

Another important change is caused by the clause providing that no players shall be transferred from one team to another after July 1. This will preclude the old custom of the teams that had no chance to win the pennant lending their players to another team that stood a good chance of landing in first place, and not only that, but combining players from all through the league for a team to play for the amateur championship.

Another innovation in the by-laws provides that the pastor of each church shall certify each month to the eligibility of his players, based on their Sunday school attendance for the preceding month.

Another provision creates two separate officers of secretary and treasurer, instead of combining these capacities in one official, as was done last year.

Three teams have applied for the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of the Bethany and St. Paul's teams from the league, with the Immanuel Baptist Church and the Sixth Presbyterian mentioned as the most likely. Ingram Memorial is also after a place, and it is expected that several more will apply soon. Secretary C. C. Love, 1015 D street northeast, is expecting applications from others teams which he has in mind, and the places are by no means filled as yet.

The next meeting of the league will be held Tuesday next, at which time the officers will probably be elected, the schedule committee appointed, and more complete plans for the season formulated.
